BROOMFIELD, COLORADO

Located equidistant between Denver and Boulder Colorado, Broomfield has a growing population of approximately 75,000 that attracts global corporate headquarters, tech companies, thriving small businesses, and is central to the business networks of the future including Baseline; a planned development in northeastern Broomfield recently described by BIZWest as "a modern mini-city home to tens of thousands of new residents and jobs" in a community connected by residents, 8,000 acres of open lands, meticulously planned neighborhoods, and a multimodal transportation network that has easy access to Denver, Boulder, and the world. Broomfield's next Attorney will be a pivotal part of Broomfield's future, facing interesting challenges with long-lasting impact. Broomfield is a magnet and a model – from innovative and creative industries to community-oriented policies and initiatives – Broomfield is where it's all happening.

THE DEPARTMENT & POSITION

The purpose of the City and County Attorney's office is to provide advice and counsel on a wide variety of legal matters to City Council, other City and County departments, boards, commissions, and committees in order to maintain the legality of their endeavors, thereby protecting them and the citizens of Broomfield from unnecessary liability and expense. The Department operates on a 2020 budget of $1,250,337 with 9 FTEs. In 2018, Broomfield's City and County Attorney's Office was rated the #1 department in a workplace survey.

Working under the general direction of the Mayor and City Council and in cooperation with the City and County Manager, the City and County Attorney exercises considerable independence of judgment in meeting assigned goals and objectives and in implementing legal services and programs.
